Elegance of the Louis Reigns.

A New York fashion writer says that the elegance and grace of the Louis reigns are to be introduced into our drawing rooms next winter in the clothes of the women as well as in the style of the furniture or wall decoration. Brocade skirts, pointed and laced bodices, tight sleeves, panniers, rouge, patches, powder and three cornered hats are not to be confined to fancy dress balls, and already women who own old jewels are unearthing odd little clasps, such as our great-grandmothers wore on a narrow piece of velvet across their foreheads. Scarfpins with chains and seals and tiny miniatures set in pearls or diamonds are to be worn on the shirt frills of the fancy vests and laped coats or in black moire ribbon, which fashion whispers will be tied round the neck and under the chin. Satin and silk brocade in gold or silver thread will be used for many of these eighteenth century frocks, and they set off fine jewels to great effect.

Daisy Luncheons.

Outdoor entertainments are the fad at this season of the year, and the hostess who can originate something which is a real novelty is clever indeed. Luncheons representing some chosen flower and served under the trees on small tables linked together with a chain of the selected blossoms are one of the pretty ideas which can be developed in various ways. Daisies are the most practical flowers for such an outlay. White cloth cut out around the edge in daisy petals may serve for the table linen, a bowl of daisies is the centerpiece, and if the china is decorated with daisies the effect is perfect. Some of the courses may be garnished with daisies cut out of hard boiled eggs or white turnips, and it is a simple matter to serve the ice cream in daisy form, using pistache for the leaves, some white ice for the petals and a yellow French cream or frozen custard for the center.—New York Sun.

To Clean Straw Hats.

A straw hat or bonnet may be made to look as fresh as new by washing with kerosene oil. When shopping, early in the morning, if one chances in the furniture department of a large establishment, it will be found that it is this oil that is used abundantly to keep the handsome woods bright and shining, for they are literally washed with this fluid. The oil acts in the same way upon straw, softening and imparting gloss as well as cleaning in a more satisfactory manner than benzine. The washing should be done away from all fire and lights. If the renovated hat is hung in the open air for a few days, the odor will disappear and with it any danger of igniting readily.

Before using polish on carved woods a washing in kerosene will effectually remove the dust that has settled in "ungettable" crevices and prepare for a beautiful shine.

Quiet at Cricket Lodge.

Maggie Mitchell lives in one of the upper streets of Manhattan, and so quietly that many persons are not aware that she is in this part of the country. Her summers she spends at Cricket Lodge, Elberon, where she drives a little, bathes in the surf and swims, and reads a little German, a language the study of which she has taken up within the last year or so. She objects to notoriety and keeps her identity from the public as much as possible. The name of Maggie Mitchell was a household word for so long that many persons have an idea that Mrs. Abbott—Maggie Mitchell's name in private life—must be old and decrepit by this time.

"She went on the stage so young and played for so many years that people seem to think that she is a regular Methuselah," her daughter says in almost indignant tones.—New York Times.

Russian Clubwomen.

Lady Aberdeen has received a letter from St. Petersburg, saying that Russian women are developing a lively interest in clubs, due largely to the growth of the women's club idea in England and America. Until recently no move in this direction has been possible, as Russian law forbade the formation of women's clubs, and it is only after strenuous efforts and repeated appeals to the empress that the embargo has been removed. Now there has been established in St. Petersburg the Russian Women's Mutual Help society. The president is Dr. Anna Shabanoff, a woman of much ability and energy. The club contains about 1,400 members, including doctors of medicine, mathematics and law, authors, and, it is said, most of the intellectual society of St. Petersburg.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Paid Bridesmaids.

"For some time it has been the habit at New York weddings to pay bridesmaids with jingling coin," says a German family weekly. "Bridesmaidship" in this way becomes a business. At a recent wedding held in New York there were no less than 15 bridesmaids, who were all punctually paid. Besides the beautiful toilets, given by the bride's father, they each received $30 for appearing in the wedding train. There are young ladies who accept as much as $100 for their 'office of honor.' 'One woman,' continues the Teuton journalist, 'who is much sought after for her beauty, has appeared as bridesmaid at more than 200 weddings, and has in a short time amassed quite a little fortune, besides many costly presents she received.'

Florence Nightingale's Good Wishes. Florence Nightingale, loved and venerated in her old age, bedridden and often suffering, is still mindful of those who follow the calling which she did so much to ennoble. She wrote to the manager of the educational exhibit of trained nurses of the International Health exposition recently held in New York city, "Florence Nightingale hopes that your endeavors may be successful in raising the standard of this calling and sends her kind regards."

The Chipper Youth Know What Usually Happened in Such Cases.

The fresh young man with no respect in his soul for gray hairs and dyed whiskers swung himself on the car in the middle of a block, and leaning against the brake handle proceeded to roll a cigarette with great deftness. The fat man who despises the ways of the youth on general principles leaned against the window guards and watched the development of a cigarette.

"Got a match, neighbor?" inquired the fresh young man as he put the last finishing twist to his smoke.

"Young man"—began the fat man after a brief, elderly pause, calculated to greatly impress the cigarette smoker.

"Yes, I know all about it," interrupted the youth, "so you might as well choke your lecture on a borsn. I know cigarettes will kill me if I stick to 'em, but I don't care. It's an easy death. I know if I must smoke I should smoke cigars, but I don't like the color of 'em. I've got a touch of paresis now, and I'm due for more. I know you think of all the disgusting things in the world a cigarette is the worst."

"I know they undermine the constitution and are wrecking the rising generation. Now if I've forgotten anything you were going to say help me out. Come to think of it, I've got a match myself. If I keep on smoking these things, I won't be able to think at all before long. I know if you had a boy that smoked cigarettes you would lick him within an inch of his life. I nearly forgot you were going to say that. Where do you get off anyhow?"

"Here," gasped the fat man as he dropped off the platform, muttering something about what this country is coming to. And the fresh young man lighted his cigarette with a grin.

Resolved, 'That the people of the island of Cuba are and of right ought to be free and independent.'

THE SILVER CAUSE.

Six years ago, the people of Nevada, irrespective of past party affiliations, painfully conscious of the fact that Cleveland Democrats and Harrison Republicans were playing fast and loose with the Silver question, sent representative men from all parts of the State to a convention in this city. At that convention it was resolved that the remonetization of silver was the paramount issue and that no man should be supported for executive, legislative or judicial office, who was not pledged by platform and declaration to the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. As a distinctive and appropriate name the party was christened by Hon. Thomas Wren, who had served the State as a Representative in Congress having been elected, as a Republican, Hon. George W. Cressly, also an ex-Congressman, who had been elected by the Democrats, acting as sponsor for the new party and giving up his life as a pledge of its fidelity to the cause of free coinage.

The new party was ridiculed by the place-hunting massbacks of the old parties, who confidently predicted its demise before the ensuing election. But the party, notwithstanding the dire forebodings of the bourgeois of the old parties, continued to increase in numbers and virility. Senator Stewart, who had been elected as a Republican, upon his arrival from Washington, where he had been battling for silver against Republicans and Democrats, enlisted in the ranks of the Silver men, and with sledge-hammer blows, laid low the opponents of free coinage. Hon. Francis G. Newlands, who had been tendered the nomination for Congress on a silver platform, by the Republicans, declined the offer, joined the Silver party and was elected on an unequivocal free coinage platform by an overwhelming majority, and Senator Stewart was returned to the Senate by the unanimous vote of both Houses of the Legislature.

The Nevada declaration that the restoration of silver is the issue of paramount importance to the Nation and that there cannot be permanent prosperity until silver is restored to its historic place as a money metal, was re-echoed through the West and the refrain was taken up by the farmers of the Mississippi Valley and the planters of the Gulf States. The peerless Bryan, in advocacy of the cause declared that the "Gold Trust shall not press down the crown of thorns upon the brow of labor; they shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold," and the principles of the Silver party were adopted by the Silver Democrats and Silver Republicans in 1896, and were approved by over six and one-half millions of freemen at the polls, though millions of dollars contributed to Hanna's campaign fund by the trusts and monopolies of Europe and the United States were expended in the purchasing of votes for the Gold Standard candidate, and every means that devilish ingenuity could conceive were used to coerce workmen and debtors to support the Gold ticket.

In Nevada the Silver party has lost no ground. It has been successful at every election since its organization and its majority in 1896 was the largest in its history. It has a delegation in Congress, which in ability and influence is not excelled by a like number from any state in the Union. The officers, which it elected to steer the Ship of State, have administered public affairs honestly and economically. Though vilified by a portion of the press of the State, who charge incompetency in a general way, no specific charge has been made against them because the charge cannot be sustained. There is no evidence of disaffection in the Silver ranks. The great issue which called the party into existence is not yet settled and until it is, the Silver party will not have fulfilled its mission. It believes that in the next presidential election the people of the East will fully recognize the importance of settling the financial question right and settling it forever by restoring the money of the Constitution. When that is accomplished an era of prosperity will be assured and then and not till then should the Silver party cease to exist.

OPPOSED TO FUSION.

In California the railroad organs oppose fusion of the Silver forces. The corporations, of course, do not want to have those, who are opposed to trusts and monopolies and in favor of an American financial system, united. It costs more money to fight them and then it is not certain that money can be obtained; hence the effort to create divisions in their ranks. Now our neighbor, the Gazette, true to its stimon and its Master, is practicing fusion. It intimates that it means fusion, which is the very thing the Republicans want for themselves. Two years ago they abandoned in June the principles which in May they declared they were unalterably in favor of, in the hope of getting office, and now the party leaders in this State, who throw their principles overboard, at the instigation of Mr. Hanna, are left out in the cold without principle or office.

Fusion means strength, and that means office, and as the Hannaites want the offices for themselves, they are opposed to a fusion of the Silver men. In this, as in nearly everything else, they are in accord with a few Cleveland Democrats in this State, and are backed up by the corporations everywhere. Of course the Gazette is opposed to the fusion of the Silver forces, though every sensible person, whether he be Gold man or Silver man, knows that it is supremely silly for men, who are in accord on the great issues of the day to divide their forces.

CONDENSED WAR NEWS.

A Madrid dispatch says: The Spanish reply to the United States, which it has been learned from high authority, accepts the American peace conditions, has been completed and was submitted to the Queen Regent yesterday. The Queen immediately approved the reply of her Government to the United States accepting the conditions laid down by the latter under which peace will be concluded.

At Washington the answer from Spain was expected at almost any moment by the United States officials and the brief dispatches stating the acceptance of the terms increased the tension. Neither the State Department nor the Spanish Embassy received any dispatches in detail. Later in the day a report was current that the Embassy had received a communication at an early hour, but this was found to be incorrect. It was also announced that the Spanish Cabinet would go over the answer at their afternoon session and that a probable discussion would prolong the transmission of the answer. If the news of acceptance is true, then nothing remains but the routine of concluding the formalities of peace. If Spain replies in the affirmative to all of the terms all obfuscation of delay is at an end. If, however, the acceptance is qualified in any way by a condition that certain privileges be granted or rights conceded then there is a possibility of further discussion.

Consul Danna of Ponce Island, Porto Rico, has received information that foreign consuls at San Juan de Porto Rico have advised the Spanish officers to surrender the island to the American troops. The Spaniards in reply announced that they had resolved to fight.

In spite of their brave talk it is understood that the Spanish officers have refused to fight or imperil their lives in defense of San Juan.

Colonel San Martin, who evacuated Ponce on the approach of the army of invasion, is reported to have been tried by court martial and shot. Colonel Puig who evacuated Guanica, committed suicide while on the road between Adjutanes and Aroibo.

General Miles cables the War Department from Ponce that General Brooke's brigade had captured Guayama without loss. The resistance was not strong or very prolonged.

A dispatch from Madrid announces that Spain has given orders that the Minister of War shall not force resistance in Porto Rico to the utmost. This is done at the suggestion of the powers in order to save unnecessary loss of life.

It is conceded that Porto Rico must eventually fall into American hands and the Captain General has been instructed to effect terms of surrender similar to those effected by General Toral.

Major Morrison ordered a detachment of the battalion to surround the Chinese empire at Carson yesterday while the civil officers searched the town. Some of the missing property was found, it having been traded for whisky. The officers claim they have the thieves spotted and arrests will follow.

THE OMAHA EXPOSITION.

The State Exhibits and Other Matters of Interest Mentioned.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—Notwithstanding the unsettled condition of public affairs occasioned by the war with Spain the Omaha Exposition has surpassed the expectations of all and two months of the five have passed with a good attendance and the general interest has grown among the people of the Trans-Mississippi States and even now new features and products are daily being added to the various departments, and the people of the Great East are daily being educated in the wonderful possibilities of the Great West. All of the States west of the Mississippi except three have on exhibit products of all kinds produced therein and while those of the Middle West have the advantage in the agricultural line, still some of the Pacific Coast States can show a greater variety of results and more returns from the same amount of land, but the distance and cost of transportation enables the Middle States to make a larger display.

Many of the States have buildings of their own and means to entertain and advertise their resources while those having no buildings have secured space in the various Exposition buildings and all make creditable showings. The general attendance is about five thousand a day, but on State days and other special occasions the attendance has exceeded forty thousand people and all seem pleased with the Exposition.

The Government has a magnificent building of its own and has displays from every branch of the Government Bureaus where regular officials are constantly in attendance to give information to all visitors, and here may be seen the National Museum, the Smithsonian Institute, and models of all the Army, Navy, Interior, Patent Office, Postoffice and other branches of the Government Departments. In front of this building is a large electric fountain that presents a fine appearance by night and during the day the United States Life Saving Service give daily drills. This is on the west end of a large lagoon of water and bordering on the north and south sides are the large Exposition buildings, among which may be mentioned the Fine Art, Liberal Art, Mines, Agriculture, Manufacture and Machinery and Electrical, while at the east end of the lagoon will be found a large Auditorium, Boys and Girls building and on the extreme end the large Cafe on the bridge crossing from the main grounds over to the east Midway across Sherman Avenue. On the east Midway which is on the high bluffs on the west shore of the Missouri river are situated most of the state buildings, all of which are magnificent in structure, and on this tract is also situated the Horticultural building in which the California exhibit surpasses all others. In the Mining building Nevada is credited with having the greatest number and variety of specimens, although not the largest quantity. In the Agricultural building Nevada has had a hard deal, having lost much of its display by storm before it was arranged, and since my return home another storm broke out at the head of the Exhibit Department and the entire display was moved by the Manager of that Department and not rearranged in a very creditable manner, so Nevada will suffer by comparison with other States which have had money to display and then been left alone after arranged. The Exposition as a whole, however, is a wonderful object lesson of what is produced west of the Mississippi and the products raised by irrigation are particularly interesting even to the great farming people of the Missouri and Mississippi valleys. The distance and expense will prevent many of the Nevada people from seeing the Exposition, although if a reasonable number desire to go and will let me know I think I can arrange a half rate for another excursion leaving here the last of this month and at that time anyone desiring could also attend the National Irrigation Congress at Cheyenne. The Union Pacific Company tender me the best rates and equipments of any eastern road and I think the S. P. will grant any reasonable rate that a fair number of Nevada people might ask.

H. B. MAXSON,
Vice-President for Nevada to Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition.

A Landslide.

A cloudburst occurred yesterday afternoon near Mystic this side of Floriston, causing a landslide, which delayed the east-bound passenger for two hours. The Donner excursionists were on the train and for a time it looked as if they would be detained at Truckee all night. A crowd of section men from both east and west soon cleared the road, however, and trains were moved. It is said the storm at Floriston was terrific.

Rev. Mr. Eldy of Carson was a west-bound passenger last night.

SHODDY UNIFORMS.

How the Volunteers are Being Swindled by Contractors.

The Nevada Infantry Battalion is composed of the companies of the State Militia which were recruited up to 100 enlisted men each. The uniforms of the National Guard were furnished by the Government for the men as far as they went, and new uniforms were furnished by the Government for the men that the National Guard could not supply. A comparison of the new uniforms with the old shows that the new ones are shoddy affairs and competent judges say that one of the old suits is worth at least three of the new ones. The enlisted men have to pay for their uniforms, that is they are allowed a specified sum for uniforms, and if they require a pair of trousers or a blouse more than is allowed them by the regulations, the cost is deducted from their pay. When the uniforms are made of good material, such as that heretofore furnished, the Government allowance is ample to keep a soldier in decent clothes if he takes ordinary care of them, but the shoddy suits now being furnished the men look shabby after a week's wear.

That the officials whose duty it is to examine the uniforms furnished the volunteers are responsible in great part for the quality of the contractors there is no reasonable doubt. There is a strong suspicion that they are in partnership with the contractors and share in their ill-gotten gains. In San Francisco a Quartermaster of Volunteers was arrested for having sold stores issued to his regiment. He admits his guilt but gives the excuse that he did what all the other Commissary officers at Camp Merritt have been doing right along.

If examples were made of those scoundrels who are swindling the brave men who volunteered to fight for their country at Manila, Cuba, Porto Rico or wherever their services may be required, it would doubtless have a good effect and the men would have better food and clothing at less cost to the government and themselves than at present.

The Nevada Volunteers have to take whatever is sent them from San Francisco, whether the articles are good or bad, as in the case of shoddy uniforms for which they have to pay the price of good clothing. Some of these uniforms rip in pieces before they have been worn a week and have to be sewed to make them at all serviceable. While the old uniform will last a year with ordinary care, the new uniforms, the boys say, will not last six weeks.
